

160 KNOWN DEAD IN STORM ALONG THE EAST GULF COAST

REPORTS ARE COMING FROM THE SCATTERED COMMUNITIES IN THE STORM SWEEP SECTION. LOSS WILL RUN MORE THAN 300 IS NOW THE BELIEF.

WIRE NOW INTO NEW ORLEANS

Losses Are Heavy in City—Already Relief Measures Are Being Carried Out—Three Hundred Marooned at Empire, La., in Four Houses—None Dead at Grand Isle.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, Oct. 1.—Reports from scattered sections of the hurricane area in Louisiana and the Mississippi gulf coast late today give 160 known dead, 106 reported dead and 113 missing. Hundreds of persons along the Mississippi and interior points are marooned in flooded sections. Relief vessels have been sent to assist them. It is believed the total loss of life will not be over 300.

Three hundred persons are marooned in four houses at Empire, La. Seventy inhabitants of Grand Isle, which was swept by a tidal wave, were reported refugees in a stormhouse, suffering from lack of food. No life loss was reported at Grand Isle.

First word since the storm came from Bay St. Louis, Miss., and nearby coast points tonight and stated that one life was lost there and property damage was heavy. Houma today was reported safe and no lives were lost. Burwood, the most southerly point on the gulf coast, is reported safe.

LOSSES OVER STATE.

Couriers by Boat and Train Into New Orleans Tell of Havoc.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, Oct. 1.—Couriers by boat and train as well as mail advices brought in reports of tremendous property loss and rumors of many drowned along both sides of the Mississippi south of here. It was officially estimated the hurricane caused more than one hundred million dollars' damage in Louisiana. Boatmen arriving here early today reported that the Doullough canal, about fifty miles down the Mississippi, reported that four large houses still stood at Empire and about 200 persons were marooned in them. The state conservation commission started a rescue vessel for that point today. Many inhabitants of the flooded sections on both sides of the river were reported marooned and some were said to be clinging to tree tops.

Reported as known dead:

- Twenty-four at New Orleans and environs.
- Twenty-one at Rigolets, La.
- Twenty-two at Lake Catherine, La.
- Twenty-five near Frenier, La.
- Eight drowned in sinking packet Hazel near Grand Isle.
- Total one hundred.
- Reported dead and missing:
- Sixteen near Shil Beach, St. Bernard parish.
- Twenty-two at Isle de La Croix.
- Fifteen negroes at Yoloksoy, La.
- Total fifty-three.

Communication with remote sections had not been resumed but couriers and messengers were arriving frequently with requests for aid for the destitute. All brought stories of terrible suffering.

Twenty Dead at Rigolets.

Twenty-one persons were known to be dead at Rigolets and twenty-two at Lake Catherine, both small resorts on the main line of the Louisville and Nashville railway, a few miles west of the Mississippi-Louisiana state line, according to W. O. Powell, one of the twelve survivors who arrived here late last night. Fifteen negroes and one white person at De La Croix Island, both small settlements in St. Bernard parish south of here. A trustworthy negro arriving here late yesterday reported he had counted twenty-five bodies lying in the marshes between Frenier and Desore on the west shore of Lake Pontchartrain. The report was confirmed today by a railroad man arriving at Hammond, La.

The sole survivor of a party of nine passengers and crew of the Grande Isle packet Hazel arrived here at midnight. The vessel capsized and was dashed to pieces near Grand Isle. The survivor, George Linden, engineer of the vessel, floated fifteen miles on a piece of timber and was exhausted when picked up by a passing vessel. Five of the crew and a white woman aboard the steamer F. M. Owens, which sank near Lockport, were reported missing. An unidentified white woman and a negro laborer were drowned at Amy, La., and two negroes were killed near Mentz when their home collapsed. Officials of the railway in New Orleans and environs early today was increased to twenty-four. In addition to the fatalities already enumerated an Italian infant was crushed to death in the debris of a house at Caennarve, "Dad" Johnson, a well known character of Westend, was drowned at that place and the body of a negro boy was found in a canal. Of the twenty-one persons known to be dead at Rigolets three were white and eighteen negroes. Mrs. Harris, wife of a railroad section foreman, her baby and her sister, Mrs. Effie Dawson, were said to be the white victims.

Among the dead at Frenier were R. Hazilgrove, an Illinois Central roadster, Adam Schlosser and J. Dele, section foreman, and George Leiser and his wife, according to Brown, the negro who reported casualties at that place. Brown says way for many miles through the country on the edge of Lake Pontchartrain, covering mile after mile by boat, and was picked up by a

THREE OFFICIALS OF THE RIGGS BANK ARE UNDER INDICTMENT

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Charles C. Glover, president of the Riggs National bank; Wm. J. Flather, vice president, and H. H. Flather, cashier, were indicted today for perjury in connection with the bank's recent suit against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams.

Four indictments were returned against each of the bank officials who are charged with perjury in making an affidavit which set forth that the bank never had engaged in stock market transactions.

The indictments are a sequel to the suit which alleged that Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams, because of personal animus toward some of the bank's officials had conspired to injure the institution.

It became known today that the Riggs bank had notified the comptroller of the currency that H. H. Flather, cashier of the bank and one of the men indicted had resigned.

J. S. May Consider Anti-dumping to Hold Onto Trade

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 1.—A review of the "anti-dumping" legislation now in force in Canada, Australia and British South Africa, has been prepared by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce in connection with proposals to protect American industry from unfair competition at the close of the European war.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield already has announced that he will propose such legislation at the winter session of congress to prevent foreign manufacturers from flooding the American market in an effort to stifle new industries built up under war conditions.

Canada and British South Africa impose upon all goods sold or imported at a price less than the "fair home market price" a special tariff equal to the price difference. The Australian government deals with the subject entirely through its anti-trust law, making "dumping" punishable as unfair competition.

In the administration conferences which have taken up the question, the Australian law has been more favorably considered. It has been generally accepted that the administration is not prepared to undertake tariff legislation at the next session of congress unless it is absolutely necessary as a revenue matter.

Texas and Pacific Shops Destroyed at Marshall, Texas

By The Associated Press.

Marshall, Tex., Oct. 1.—Damage estimated at $700,000 was caused here early today by a fire which destroyed the paint and coach shops, store room and several coaches and freight cars of the Texas and Pacific railway and damaged adjoining property. The fire, which started shortly after midnight, is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion originating in the paint shop. The coach and paint shop was a large two-story building, with basement, and constructed of galvanized iron and wood framing. The store room was a wooden structure. Stores for the entire system were carried in stock here. Several coaches and overhauling and several others together with many freight cars were on the tracks nearby. Owing to the character of the construction of the buildings and added by a north wind the buildings burned rapidly. The property was fully insured.

As the insurance policy was carried in the north the amount of insurance is not known here. Officials of the railway in Dallas and New Orleans have been notified of the loss and their orders regarding rebuilding have been sought. Nothing of this nature has been heard from them, however. A meeting of Marshall business men was held at noon today and resulted in the appointment of a committee to telegraph Vice President Pearson offering co-operation in rebuilding of whatever life company may want to do in that direction.

ENGLAND SAYS SHE HAS NOT INTERFERED WITH U. S. TRADE

STATE DEPARTMENT MAKES PUBLIC NOTE HANDED TO AMBASSADOR PAGE BY SIR EDWARD GREY CONCERNING BRITAIN'S TRADE CONDITIONS.

STATEMENTS PURPOSELY FALSE

In Communication English Government Says Germany and Her Friends Inspire the Stories About Damage Done to American Exporting by Great Britain—Figures Are Given.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Great Britain's answer to reports widely circulated in this country that she has been interfering with legitimate trade of the United States with neutral European nations is given in a note handed to Ambassador Page at London by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister, and made public here by the state department. Data and figures are quoted at length to prove that where British exports and re-exports have increased, the growth of similar trade from the United States has been many times as large, while in many cases there have been vast increases of American exports compared with decreases in those from the United Kingdom.

The note, which is in response to the British ambassador's report of a reference at the state department to the unfavorable impression created here by reports of increases of British trade with northern European countries since the war began, suggests also that statements concerning Great Britain's policy have been inspired by German agents.

Aug. 12 is the date of the document, which was transmitted by mail instead of cable. It follows with certain statistical tables omitted for brevity. "I have the honor to refer to the memorandum which you were good enough to communicate on June 3, in which you informed me of the desire of the United States government to be furnished with figures showing the amount of raw cocoa and preparations of cocoa exported from Great Britain to Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway and Italy during the four months ending April 30, 1915, as compared with the same period in 1914 and 1913. Your Excellency will remember that I had the honor to communicate to you tabular statements of these figures on the 16th ultimo.

"His Majesty's ambassador at Washington reported July 22 that the acting consul of the state department has referred in conversation to the unfavorable impression created at Washington by reports as to the increase in British exports to northern European neutral countries since the outbreak of the war received from Mr. Consul General Skinner, these reports having given figures showing increases in the British exports of some commodities to those countries. I have the honor to communicate to you tabular statements of these figures on the 16th ultimo.

"His Majesty's ambassador at Washington reported July 22 that the acting consul of the state department has referred in conversation to the unfavorable impression created at Washington by reports as to the increase in British exports to northern European neutral countries since the outbreak of the war received from Mr. Consul General Skinner, these reports having given figures showing increases in the British exports of some commodities to those countries. I have the honor to communicate to you tabular statements of these figures on the 16th ultimo.

"The increased re-export of cotton from the United Kingdom to Norway, Sweden, Denmark and The Netherlands during the months of January to May, 1915, as compared with the same period in 1914, amounted to 55,390 bales of 100 pounds. The United States exported to the four countries mentioned during this period in 1915 as much as 3,352,638 bales, as compared with 294,177 bales during the same period in 1914, an increase of 3,149,461 bales, or six times the increase in the export of cotton from the United Kingdom.

"The above figures for the United Kingdom are taken from the official customs returns; those from the United States have been carefully compiled by the war trade department from the manifests of vessels which actually arrived with cargo from the United States in Scandinavian and Dutch ports during the five months, February to June, 1915, as compared with five-twelfths of the total recorded exports from the United States to those countries in the year ended June 30, 1914. It has been necessary to adopt this method as the 'monthly summary of foreign commerce' issued by the United States government gives very few details with regard to American trade with those countries. It is evident that some shipments must have taken place from the United States to Scandinavia and The Netherlands which could not come within the scope of even the most circumstantial compilation of statistics drawn up from the manifests of examined ships alone, and I would, therefore, lay particular stress upon the fact that the figures thus obtained by the war trade department are necessarily understated. Even from the figures thus obtained, it is possible to show conclusively how much greater the increases in the American exports to Scandinavia and The Netherlands have been than those of Great Britain during the first five months of this year not only in the case of cotton,

REPORT VILLA LOSING SUPPORT OF OFFICIALS

THREE FORMER GENERALS EN ROUTE TO VERA CRUZ TO ARRANGE SURRENDER.

At Guaymas Officials Are Resigning. Some Districts Are Without Authority.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Three former Villa officers, according to an announcement from the Carranza agency here tonight, are en route to Vera Cruz commissioned to arrange for the surrender of many of the chiefs of Villa's army.

"It is stated," says the announcement, "that they are traveling incognito because Villa is ignorant of their intention and of this recent action of his subordinates and secrecy must be preserved in order to avoid assassination of such of them as still remain within his reach."

The Carranza agency gave out also what purported to be an intercepted telegram from a Villa consul at Tia Juana, Lower California, to Enrique C. Lorente, Villa's Washington representative, in which the latter was told that the territory being abandoned by Villa was "growing worse every day" and that General Villa intended "to proceed westward into districts hitherto untouched by the enemy, where there are crops in abundance."

A cablegram from the Carranza minister of foreign affairs to the agency here with reference to conditions in Mexico City says:

"Normal light and power conditions have been restored here and all street railway lines and manufacturing industries, including electricity, have resumed operations. The food situation is becoming more nearly normal each day. Large quantities of all sorts of supplies, including beef cattle to the number of more than 1,000, are arriving regularly and the prices are constantly lowering.

"The sidetracks of many railway stations nearby the capital are crowded with cars laden with supplies waiting haulage to the city. The restaurants of the city are presenting a better and more varied bill of fare and at much lower prices even than in Vera Cruz. Freight and passenger traffic between this city and Vera Cruz and other points is being regularly maintained."

Villa Generals Resign.

By The Associated Press.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 1.—Gen. Jose Leyva, former Villa commandant at Guaymas, and fifteen other army and civilian officials of Nogales, Sonora, were reported to have resigned today, leaving the border post, which Governor Jose Maytorena quit last night, practically without authority, either civil or military.

Gov. Jose Maytorena, who crossed the American border from Nogales last night and was placed under arrest here, was released tonight.

Urbalejo, the Yaqui chief who was named commander of the Villa forces in Sonora, is somewhere south of the border, but has not entered Cananea, the mining town which has been occupied by Carranza forces. The outlaws, according to reports here tonight, have killed two Chinese.

Maytorena, who was placed under military guard when he crossed the American border, was released tonight. He announced tonight that he would proceed to Washington tomorrow with Alberto Morales, his official adviser, to attend the Pan-American conference at Mexico City.

Travelers from Hermosillo, capital of Sonora state, reported today that bands of Yaqui Indians were raiding and looting ranches and small settlements, committing murder and other crimes.

BANDITS CORNERED ON THE MEXICAN SIDE OF RIO GRANDE

GEN. NAFARRATE, COMMANDING TROOPS AT MATAMOROS, ASKS FOR INSTRUCTIONS WHETHER TO ATTACK GANG OF WHICH DE LA ROSA IS A MEMBER.

ELEVEN DEAD MEXICANS FOUND

Bodies Have Been on Roadside for About a Week—No Intimation as to Manner in Which They Lost Their Lives—Border Fairly Bristles with United States Troops.

By The Associated Press.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 1.—A report that Luis De La Rosa, chief of the Texas bandits, had been led into a trap today on the Texas side of the river and killed, was received here tonight from Mission. Some Mexican sources near the border, however, were led into ambush near Mission, and in the fight two or three of them were killed.

In the absence of confirmation of the identity of officers here and at Mission were inclined to doubt that the one killed was De La Rosa. Americans in the field were of reach of telephone communication tonight.

DE LA ROSA REPORTED KILLED.

By The Associated Press.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 1.—Luis De La Rosa, known as leader of the "Texas" bandits, and seventeen bandit followers, including one man said to be an American, have been discovered on the Mexican side of the river, according to an announcement tonight by General E. P. Nafarrate, Carranza commander. Nafarrate said he had asked for instructions to attack them. Eleven dead Mexicans were found today on the American side of the river near Donna, about forty-five miles above here.

The finding of the dead Mexicans was reported by Major Edward Anderson of the twelfth cavalry. He said they had apparently been dead about a week. Their bodies lay on both sides of the road. All were dressed in farm hands' working clothes and wore soft felt hats. Part of the bodies were identified as belonging to a family residing near Donna.

Major Anderson said he had no information to indicate in what manner these Mexicans were killed or why. The announcement of Nafarrate's intention to attack Mexican-American bandits was considered here as one of the most important developments in the entire Texas uprisings since the outbreak of the revolution. The first time that the Carranza forces had announced the intention of using armed force to suppress bandits who have been raising American soil and then finding comparatively safe refuge in Mexico.

It came at a time when the rebellion on the American side had reached a high point with the result that the American bank of the Rio Grande fairly bristles with armed men, cavalry and infantry, reinforced by mountain artillery and machine guns. Army officers here had begun to doubt whether the Carranza forces would or could give effective co-operation. The army's watchfulness will be increased since Nafarrate's announcement in the belief that he was giving the bandits information which they will try to escape into American territory.

General Nafarrate said that he has wired to his immediate superior, General J. J. Trevino, for instructions. Trevino, he thought, was en route to Torreon. The bandits under De La Rosa are in the woods near the place named Las Flores, which is in the opposite direction from the American army officers have received reports that several hundred Mexicans were organizing with hostile avowedly a Mexican army. Nafarrate gave information which led to the locating of the band, saying he had seen them and that one who was an American appeared to be officer for the bandits. General Nafarrate said he had no information about the identity of any of the party except De La Rosa. He said also that in case he attacked the band he could hardly give previous notice to American forces because the maneuvers would be made too quickly.

Luis De La Rosa was the leader of a band of sixty Mexicans which on the night of August 8, attacked Norris ranch house, about sixty miles north of Brownsville. Fifteen Americans including seven cavalrymen, drove De La Rosa off with the loss of five killed after a fight of an hour and a half.

General Nafarrate announced that wires are now open to Torreon and that this means that Carranza troops have occupied that city. Col. Robert L. Bullard, in command of infantry patrol, said the situation is improving in the northern part of this country, where the outbreak originally started to such extent that two battalions of troops were today withdrawn from settlements near Lyford, where farmers said they feel safe without the presence of soldiers.

Cotton Report Delayed.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The government's cotton condition and ginning reports which were to have been issued tomorrow, will not be given out until next Monday. The southern storm has delayed collection of complete ginning figures and issuance of the condition report was postponed because the law provides that both must appear on the same day.

The condition report will show the condition of the cotton crop on September 25 and will be issued Monday noon. The ginning report to be issued at 10 a. m., will show the total ginning prior to September 25.

BULGARIA IS READY TO CAST LOT WITH TEUTONIC ALLIES

Hope That War Would Be Avoided in the Balkans Is Abandoned—Austro-German Officers Have Arrived in Bulgaria, Just as Was the Case When Turkey Joined the Fighting.

ATHENS HAS BEEN ALWAYS SUSPICIOUS

Greek Government Never Accepted in Good Faith the Statement That Mobilization Was a Matter of Precaution—Rumania Believed to Be Friendly With Allies—What Can Allies Do to Aid Greece?

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 1.—The hope expressed yesterday that war in the Balkans might be averted, virtually has been abandoned, according to the belief expressed in official quarters.

The statement made by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary in the house of commons, this afternoon confirming rumors that Austro-German officers had arrived in Bulgaria, just as they did before Turkey threw in her lot with the German allies, is taken by officials to mean that Bulgaria too has definitely decided to join them. Such a move by Bulgaria would result in the entire allies being called upon to keep their promise to support with all the means in their power these Balkan states which remain friendly to them and who are menaced by the threatened Bulgarian aggression.

Athens never had much confidence in the Bulgarian assurances that Bulgaria's mobilization was quite innocent, it was asserted here today and that the other capitals have now been forced to the same conclusion. There is nothing to indicate the attitude of Greece, but it has always been taken for granted that her friendship for Italy and France assured her continued support of the cause of the entente allies.

This question arises as to what assistance the entente allies could give Greece and Serbia. It is suggested that an agreement be made with Greece and Serbia to help them to help Serbia the allies would land a soldier and equipment at Salonika to protect Greek territory to the south when the time came to march against Bulgaria. It is probable that would be one of the steps taken against Bulgaria should her attitude continue provocative which officials now consider it to be, despite the fact that a large majority of the people in that country are believed to be still friendly to the entente allies, particularly Russia and England.

The belief that Bulgaria has taken sides with the central powers and Turkey and that the Anglo-French and Russian troops will assist the friends of the entente allies, while it momentarily diversifies the attention of the diplomats, has not dampened the interest of the public in the situation in the eastern and western theatres of war. The offensive of the allies in the west and the defensive action of the Russians are opposing the Austro-German advance in the east are the absorbing topics. The news from the two fronts is considered here as the chief factor in the situation.

The French and British forces apparently have made no further progress in the fighting along the western line in the Artois region and in Champagne has lessened somewhat in intensity. Artillery in the La Noyette region warfare from the North sea to the Vosges mountains.

The only fresh gain of additional ground claimed by any of the belligerent factions is made by Paris, which asserts that the French have made some new progress in the southern part of the Artois region and also in the forest of the Argonne.

REDUCING THE FIRE RISK.

With the advent of cool weather yesterday the admonition of the governor of Texas to observe next Saturday, Oct. 3, as fire prevention day comes more forcibly to mind and we hope the observance of the day in the inspection of flues, removal of inflammable material from the premises and taking other precautions calculated to make fires less probable will be general in Waco and elsewhere.

Nowhere can the popular motto of "Safety first" be better exemplified than in fire prevention. To prevent fires saves much unnecessary loss of property which we undergo today, but it also reduces the cost of protection against fire, for the insurance rate is based upon the frequency of fires in the past and the existing fire hazards at present. Waco has one of the best fire departments in the state and this city has been fortunate in escaping any serious conflagrations for many years past, but there is room for improvement in fire reduction still and we should make that improvement wherever possible.

Within another week people will begin putting in their stoves for the fall and winter season. Flues that have been out of commission for months will be put to work again. Possibly birds' nests or other inflammable material are lodged in the flues. There is a chance that flues may have been cracked or partially dislodged by the high winds that prevailed here during the tropical storm of August, and all flues should be inspected before building fires in stoves and grates this season. Then there are fires caused by the careless handling of combustible material of many kinds, defective wiring and the like, all of which could be prevented by proper effort.

There are several thousand preventable fires in Texas every year, according to the reports of the state fire marshal, and a good scheme for the new year would be for the general public to resolve to reduce the number of fires considerably and inaugurate such a program by a general observance of a week from today as fire prevention day.

Applying our philosophy of gratitude even for small things, we are grateful that the prospects for an early peace in Haiti are improving.

Inspired by the princely salary of from 1c to 5c a day, which the French chamber of deputies has voted to allow private soldiers, we shall expect to see the men at the front smother Teutonic opposition in the west and march on Berlin by Thanksgiving.

This has been "dress-up" week in Fort Worth and if Editor Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald of the Record has dressed up as much in proportion as his paper has—two red banners across the front page each morning—he must have been good to look upon as well as to read after.

Marvels come with such rapidity in these modern days that we have scarcely ceased to wonder at one until it sinks into insignificance in comparison to that which follows on its heel. Only a few months ago we were celebrating the fact that a man had talked from New York to San Francisco by telephone, but now comes the story of talking across the continent by wireless telephony and the announcement that it will soon be possible to talk to Europe or even around the world by the same means. We are living in a fast age and even the most imaginative among us cannot conceive of the wonderful things that will be seen and enjoyed by the rising generation.

MAINTAINING COTTON PRICES.

Everybody feels free to advise the farmers, and worlds of people avail themselves of that privilege. But occasionally a man comes along with a suggestion that is really worth while and such an one has just come from Joseph Hirsch of Corpus Christi, president of the Texas Bankers' association. He urges the farmers to market their cotton gradually so as to maintain the good price that is now being paid for the staple, and we are glad to note that a number of farmers who patronize the Waco market are pursuing that course and holding portions of their crop. This not only prevents a slump in the present market price, but paves the way for a still higher price later in the winter and spring.

Commenting upon the situation the Birmingham Age-Herald says: "This year's cotton crop will hardly total more than 11,000,000 bales. The census bureau report showed that of last year's 16,750,000-bale crop 2,842,210 bales were in spinners' warehouses and in public places of storage in the United States as of Aug. 31. Estimating the 1915 crop at 11,000,000 bales, this country started the new cotton year with 13,842,210 bales for consumption between Aug. 31, 1915, and Aug. 31, 1916. The estimated consumption of American cotton for that period, according to Neill Brothers, statisticians for the English market, is 15,000,000 bales.

"In analyzing these figures William P. Redd, an esteemed local authority on the crop situation, says that instead of a surplus of 2,842,000 bales on Aug. 31, 1916, 'a deficit of more than 1,000,000 bales is imminent.' "As for October prices, it need not be surprising to see the market reach still higher levels. But the farmer will do well to market gradually and not send the market down by trying to sell all his bales at once.

"Any price around 12c in October will be of far-reaching benefit to the whole cotton section; but if the producer holds back a portion of his crop until spring he will get 6c for it; and it may go to that price by January. "Of the South's total production of 11,000,000 bales, Alabama will have fully a tenth of it. Three months ago pessimists predicted that cotton would be selling for not more than 6½c in October. The most optimistic farmer thought he would be doing well to get 7½c.

"If it averages the producer 12c, and it will, the difference in the Alabama crop in money value will be more than $20,000,000, compared with what had been hoped for until recently. In other words, Alabama's 1,100,000 bales should bring, counting seed, not less than $52,000,000.

"So profitable has crop diversification been that this year's agricultural values in Alabama will total close to $200,000,000—a new high record. No wonder then that husbandmen and merchant alike are in high spirits."

Waco has provided an ample municipal warehouse where the farmers of this section of the state can store their cotton free of charge, the only cost being in their insuring the cotton against loss by fire, and this can be done at the rate of 25c a bale a month. This cost of insurance is far less than the cost of hauling the cotton back home, exposing it to the weather and fire and theft, and then reloading it and hauling it back to town when the owner gets ready to sell. The roads and weather may be bad when the price is reached at which the owner cares to sell and every demand of economy in money and labor favors the storing of the cotton in the municipal warehouse. Our farmer friends are cordially invited to make large use of it.

BUSINESS PICKING UP.

There is possibly no better barometer of business conditions than the realty transfers, and there is room for encouragement in the fact that the sales of real estate recorded in this county during the month of September reached three-quarters of a million dollars, or practically twice what they were the month before. The high price of cotton has brought more money into circulation and, what is even more important, perhaps, it has had the psychological effect of restoring popular confidence in things, and real estate and every other line of business is bound to feel the beneficial effects that are ensuing.

It is encouraging to note, too, that the other accurate barometer of business, building permits, is showing decidedly hopeful signs in that the building records in the city of Waco for the month of September amounted to as much as those for the combined months of July and August. While conditions a year ago were bad, they were never quite so distressing as a lot of people imagined they were. Many good people got scared and lost their nerve and it has taken them a year to recover it. But we have finally learned that we can live in spite of the war, cotton has gone up, cooler weather is on the way, Thanksgiving and Christmas will be here after a while and it's time to cheer up, as well as dress up, as they have been doing in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and other places this week.

COMPLETE TESTIMONY IN RATE HEARING

RAILROAD COMMISSION WILL SET DATE FOR ORAL ARGUMENTS SOON.

F. Merritt, Chief Engineer of Sunset Central Lines, Testifies in Last Session.

Special to the Morning News.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 1.—The railroad commission today completed the taking of testimony in the advance freight rate hearing case which has been conducted before the commission for the last month. Oral arguments will be heard at a date to be set by the commission. It was probable that these arguments will be held some time during the next week or two, although efforts are being made by the state counsel to have them delayed.

F. Merritt, chief engineer of the Sunset-Central lines; Richard Morey, a contractor of St. Louis; W. E. Maxson, general superintendent of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe; and W. E. Fitzgerald, auditor of the railroad commission, testified today.

Mr. Merritt continued his testimony of the day before, and spoke much of the methods of hauling tracks and other technical details. Morey told of certain work done on the Fort Worth-Gainesville division of the Santa Fe. W. E. Maxson declared that the equipment of the Santa Fe was in good condition.

Chairman Mayfield recalled Mr. Fitzgerald to the stand, after the railroads had completed their testimony, and requested him to submit certain figures in regard to the Brownsville road. These figures were introduced in an effort to show that this carrier was saving money by the owning of its equipment.

After announcement that all testimony was in, Attorney Gray suggested that the case be submitted to the commission without argument. The how-ever, did not meet with the approval of the railroad attorneys. Judge Garwood stated that as many other lines were interested in the hearing he believed that there should be an oral argument, although personally he was in favor of submitting the case without any argument. He urged the commission to set the date for the arguments at as early a date as possible.

To Take Testimony in White Case.

By The Associated Press.
Austin, Oct. 1.—Oral testimony is to be taken in the habeas corpus hearing scheduled for next Monday in the court of criminal appeals of Ex-prate Danney White of Tyler, which involves the constitutionality of the permanent day that sixteen witnesses have been called to appear in this case. This is rather unusual to offer testimony in such a procedure. Judge Ned Morris of Palestine.

White, reached here today and is conferring with Judge C. M. Cureton, first assistant attorney general who is representing the warehouse commission.

BABY OSTRICHES IN CIRCUS ZOO

Family of These Rare Birds, All Highly Educated, With Ringling Brothers' Show.

What is considered the largest as well as the most finely bred herd of ostriches outside of the few ostrich farms in Florida will be brought to this city on Wednesday, October 6, when the Ringling Brothers' circus is underlined to appear here. Every bird in the entire herd is remarkable for some highly developed attribute peculiar to this fast-vanishing bird.

Probably the most interesting feature of the ostrich department of Ringling Brothers' monster zoo is the family of baby ostriches, all of them nearly as large as their papas and mamas. Tall, ungainly animals they are, with their thin limbs almost as well developed and as strong as their elders. In addition to their diet they are regularly fed a selected menu of cut glass, small pieces of iron, tacks and nails, which they consider delicacies, and so fond are they of this bill of fare that their eagle eyes sometimes spy diamonds adorning the speckled and variegated feathers made to surmount the wired enclosure with a view to greedily gulp the savory tidbit. Because of this ostrich peculiarity their enclosure is wired up high so that a curious neck of one of the birds will not molest those who watch their antics.

This highly educated family of bipeds have a part to play in the new program this season, and the most amusing centers in the race among the fleetest of the flock, for the ostrich, as it is known, is a great deal faster than any race horse. However, the infinitesimal and poorly developed that in a race contestants are just as liable to reverse racing rules and run the wrong way as they are to follow the book of rules and act like regular racing ostriches. As a consequence their exploitation of their Mercurial powers is highly amusing.

Six of the birds are trained to draw a small survey, and are harnessed just the same as horses, while another, attached to a racing sulky, tries conclusions with a horse driven by a regular jockey. As the result that the ostrich far outdistances the steed, although the latter is allowed a large handicap.

New and novel trained animal acts are striking features of the Ringling Brothers' circus this season, and among many and remarkable acts which demonstrate the amazing degree of intelligence possessed by various animals. Several companies of equine entertainers furnish a delightful display of equine intelligence, while the trick elephants include the best trained pachyderms ever shown in this vicinity. An entirely new line of electricity. A series of remarkable accomplishments presented for the first time here.

The trained animal displays follow shortly after the new spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, the 1,250-character pageant which opens the all-new entertaining program this season.

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable drugstore get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These are not at all expensive.

With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stops with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again. Sample free, Dept. S-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

Y. M. B. L. WILL TAKE BIG CROWD
TO OPENING OF BELL COUNTY FAIR ON MONDAY.

TEAMS SELLING MANY TICKETS

Governor Ferguson Will Open Exposition—Finishing Touches Being Put on.

Who's going to Temple Monday?
Almost every booster in Waco, from all indications. Ten teams from the Y. M. B. L. started out on a ticket selling campaign after lunch at the club rooms yesterday noon. When the reports began to come rolling in late in the afternoon, Chairman W. T.
Wheeler, in charge of the campaign, was elated, for everything points to a crowd of at least 300 men, not counting the band.

Each team was apportioned twenty tickets to sell—and several of them came back for more tickets, "sold out."
Forrest Goodman's team and H. A.
Klein's team consolidated—result: sold all forty tickets. Dr. Paul Murphy's team, consisting of himself and Perry Duncan, Robert Dupree, E. C. Street and J. M. Penland, all worked and sold twenty-five tickets. J. P. Everett's team placed twenty-one transportation cards and E. F. Drake's bunch disposed of seven pasteboards in East Waco. The court house team refused to report, holding back until it can be seen what the others have done.

The campaign continues until Monday noon, when the special Santa Fe train will pull out from the Cotton Belt depot. The Bell county invasion is an assured success already.

At 11 o'clock Monday morning, Gov.
James E. Ferguson, in the large auditorium at Midway, only a few miles from his old home place and a short distance from the city in which he lived at the time of his election to the greatest office of the state of Texas, will open the first annual exposition of Bell county with an address, and the six days of schooling, fun and amusement will have begun.

With the grounds being cleared and the finishing touches put to the several buildings, with the opening day of the exposition only three days hence, with exhibits being rapidly gathered from all parts of the county and attractions concentrating from all parts of the United States, the Bell county agricultural fair promises to be the greatest fall fair ever held in any county in Texas. Interest has become so acute in the exposition that the expectations of the officials of the fair have been surpassed many times and preparations for the staging of a fair that will be recognized as one of the greatest factors for the upbuilding of Bell county have been chanced to make the exhibition one that will be a credit to all of Central Texas.

Workmen on the grounds are rapidly putting the finishing touches to the several new buildings which will house the largest and completest collection of agricultural products, livestock and other exhibits. New stalls are being erected for scores of horses brought to Midway for exhibition purposes, the hundred-odd stalls erected for the racing stock being too few in number to care for all the horses brought here. Coops have been placed in the poultry building awaiting the arrival today and tomorrow of the birds which will be exhibited for the admiration of poultry fanciers of all parts of Texas, who are expected to be in attendance next week. The auditorium and agricultural building has been completed and seats are being arranged for the opening address of Governor Ferguson Monday morning.

The swine building is being erected so that exhibitors may have no fear as to the best care being administered to their exhibits.

Concessions are being granted along a special street which has been set aside for such attractions, to parties who will see that no comfort for the thousands of visitors is overlooked on the grounds.

That the racing feature will be one of the paramount features of the fair is evidenced by the great interest which is being centered in this department. The ground has settled sufficiently to make the track one that is the ideal of racers and practice runs are being made daily by those drivers who are already here for the big events.

An immense grandstand along the racing course which will seat approximately 4,000 people is now completed and ready for the opening race Monday afternoon. The stand is located on the west side of the track so that the sun will beat down from the rear and is erected so that the spectators may have an excellent periscopic view of the entire course. A place has been reserved for automobiles which will be parked to the right of the stand.

FOOTBALL IN EAST REALLY STARTS TODAY

SEVERAL GAMES OF MORE THAN USUAL EARLY SEASON INTEREST.

Southwestern Season Also Starts—Nebraska and Drake Meet at Lincoln.

New York, Oct. 1.—Football will begin to edge its way toward the center of sports popularity with the playing of the first of the October games tomorrow afternoon.

Several games of more than usual early season interest are to be played on eastern grids today, and the possibility of a form upset adds spice to the day's struggles. Chief attention will center in the games of the Princeton and Rutgers meeting, although the Yale-Virginia game and the season's debut of the Army and Navy eleven also are outstanding features of the schedule.

The principal games of today, together with the scores of last season, where the same institutions met, are appended: Rutgers at Princeton, 6 to 12; Massachusetts Aggies at Harvard, did not play; Virginia at Yale, 0 to 21; Oberlin at Cornell, did not meet; Franklin and Marshall at Pennsylvania, 19 to 6; Trinity at Brown, did not meet; Holy Cross at Navy, 0 to 13; Maize at Dartmouth, did not meet; Bowdoin at Amherst, 6 to 9; Carleton at Lehigh, 6 to 21.

Season Starts in West. Kansas City, Oct. 1.—The football season of 1915 will be ushered in tomorrow on southwestern grids. The big games in the Missouri Valley are those between the University of Nebraska and Drake at Lincoln, the University of Kansas and William Jewell at Lawrence and the University of Missouri and the Oklahoma Aggies at Columbia.

The Missouri coaches, with the largest number of prospective first eleven players in the history of the school, have spent a busy two weeks picking out like-minded candidates. Coach Schulte said tonight he believed the eleven he would send against the Oklahoma players tomorrow would be able to uphold Missouri tradition with a victory in the first game of the season. The Oklahomaans on the other hand were known to be heavier than last season and are prepared to give the men from Columbia a hard battle.

At Norman, Okla., the University of Oklahoma and the University of Texas will play their annual game, which generally goes to the University players by a big score.

Games in Texas tomorrow will be a renewal of many old-time rivalries and besides the interest in the struggles will afford the first comparison of strength on which gridiron enthusiasts will attempt to measure the relative power of the teams who will battle for premier honors in November.

University of Texas, always a heavy machine, should have an easy victory over the University of Christian University eleven from Fort Worth. The game will be played at Austin. Rice institute will tackle Trinity at Houston, where a fierce battle is expected.

The principal game in Arkansas will be at Fayetteville, where the University of Arkansas is expected to roll up a big score over Hendrix College.

SCENE FROM "THE WONDERFUL ADVENTURE" WITH WILLIAM FARNUM AT THE HIPPODROME TODAY.

New Quarterback Shows Up at Baylor and Looks Good

His name is Stonerod—pretty fair name for a football player, at that.

He is about 5 feet 7, or maybe 8, and has that indefinable football look that generally is described as being "built close to the ground."

If he was standing on the other side of a high-hung blanket on a clothes line, he would probably say he weighed 155; if the blanket was waist high to him and the guesser could see only his shoulders the figure would be somewhere around 185. In other words, he is built for speed with a lot of weight behind it.

He punts like a veteran; doesn't know how to miss a pass; handles a team with pep and judgment; is absolutely tireless. And, best of all he's a quarter—in fact, he's a quarter, if one may judge by his first appearance in uniform. He was secured for Baylor by a roundabout chain of circumstances that had Ed Hoover, a Baylor alumnus, as its basis. The new man landed here without a sign of a workout and stepped into new football togs and also right straight into the hands of a coach who had a couple of thousand Baylor rooters.

When asked if he had kept in training this summer he said, unhesitatingly: "Yes, indeed; best training in the world. I've been working out nearly all summer with a hay press, and if you don't believe he's a little conditioner well take one on."

At any rate, he's here and a lot of troubles have cleared off the coach's shoulders. Of course, one day's good showing doesn't make a football player; there's morning glory specimens in football and very often up to 45, and they circled over with monotonous consistency.

There are other punters, of course. Young Rine shows evidences of becoming a good one if he can speed up his kick a bit and punt 'em a little higher; but there's small chance for anyone to Fouts has a new toe. Not really a new pedal-extremity digit, but the great back has developed a new punt. And it's a pippin. He was using a 50 per cent plus improvement. He was punting a beautiful high spin 35 yards and very often up to 45, and they circled over with monotonous consistency.

There are other punters, of course. Young Rine shows evidences of becoming a good one if he can speed up his kick a bit and punt 'em a little higher; but there's small chance for anyone to College Station, Oct. 1.—A. & M. defeated Austin College on Kyle Field by a score of 40 to 0. This was the first game of the season and the Farmers showed up well. The game was practically free from fumbles and injuries. The Aggies made six touch downs. Nearly every man on both squads was tried out. There were no individual stars on either team. Straight line plunges and end runs were used principally. The Farmers made one forward pass of 30 yards for a touchdown.

Under the latter schedule Alexander could be worked Saturday. Monday and Tuesday, which in the opinion of many close followers of baseball, would be decidedly advantageous to the National league standard bearers.

A point made by those in favor of beginning the series on Friday is that it would be a much more convenient date for those fans who desire to witness all the games of the series. The dates of play are expected to call for two games in one city, the other to be followed by alternating games to the close of the series.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Ed Walsh had little difficulty holding St. Louis safe today thereby winning his third straight game of the season.

The day was designated as "Army Day" in honor of Henry P. McCain, adjutant general of the United States army. Several companies of militia and members of the boy scouts were present.

The general was presented with a gold sword by the White Sox in appreciation for the kindness shown toward the club by the Philippines while it was touring the world. Governor Dunne of Illinois made the presentation speech.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—A batting rally in the eighth gave St. Louis a victory over Pittsburgh here today 6 to 3.

"The Wonderful Adventure."

A "screen scoop" of a distinctly out-of-the-ordinary sort is the engagement by William Fox, the New York motion picture magnate and president of the Fox Film corporation, of William Farnum, creator of Ben Hur, the Prince of India, and a score of other famous parts, at the hitherto unprecedented salary of $100,000.

In order to secure himself on his investment, Mr. Fox has shown a special aptitude in receiving passes, and explains his skill by the simple statement—"why, you see, I'm a center fielder."

And there you are. Assistant Coach Mike Balenti, in showing somebody how to run down a punt, stepped in a hole and did a fine somersault. He explained to the bunch what happened to him and one of the little fellows on the back row unkindly called him "Alibi Mike."

Of course, the timorous one was instantly and properly rebuked, for Mike Balenti doesn't need any alibi when it comes to football. He isn't even a hazzler for he can still drop kick like a bullet for mere trifles of forty and forty yards—and he does with baseball shoes on, too. Mike tried all afternoon yesterday for one of his old-time long ones, and it took him until he was the last one on the field to pull it off.

Balenti seems tireless. After every body was off the field but himself and a bunch of kids fighting out a game, he still kept his eyes on the 14-year-olds in the prospect of picking up a one-day football player. Asked what the score of the kid game was, he said: "It was 68 to 0 a while ago—but they've made seven or eight touchdowns since then."

The star on the winning side, by the way, was "Stuffy" Crosslin, brother of "Daddy" Crosslin.

Yell Leander Sanderford and his assistant, Miss Lorraine Patti, had a rehearsal in the grandstand yesterday and it is assumed that the student-body will do its part today in the attempt to overwhelm Howard Payne.

When asked if all his men were ready to go, Coach Mosley said: (Here the official war censors cut out what he said—for nobody pays a cent to watch a coach say except the players and they don't.)

On the loss of a coin will depend the choice of the day in which the opening game will be played; but there appears to be more interest in the date of the opening contest than in the location of the initial battle for the championship of 1915.

Whether the series will begin on Friday, October 8, or on Saturday, October 9, is causing much discussion among followers of baseball and the American league interests will endeavor to have the play begun on Friday. This would preclude the possibility of the Phillies sending their pitcher, Alexander, to the mound in three of the first four games played, as might easily be done should the series open on Saturday.

Under the latter schedule Alexander could be worked Saturday. Monday and Tuesday, which in the opinion of many close followers of baseball, would be decidedly advantageous to the National league standard bearers.

A point made by those in favor of beginning the series on Friday is that it would be a much more convenient date for those fans who desire to witness all the games of the series. The dates of play are expected to call for two games in one city, the other to be followed by alternating games to the close of the series.

Stolen Money Orders from New Jersey Passed in Alabama

The following warning to look out for stolen money orders from Leonardo, N. J., has been issued by the postoffice department.

"Office of Inspector in Charge, "Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 29, 1915. "Warning notice No. 781, dated September 16, 1915, reports the theft of domestic money order forms number 2662 and 2800, inclusive, printed for use of the Leonardo, New Jersey postoffice."

"On September 20, 1915, at 8:15 p. m., a man registered at the Exchange hotel in Montgomery, Alabama, under the name of A. C. Cox, Savannah, Ga., about an hour later he registered under the same name at the Gay Teague hotel in the same city. The clerk at the Exchange hotel cashed for him Leonardo, New Jersey, money order No. 2708, amount $25. The clerk at the Gay Teague cashed for him Leonardo, New Jersey, money order No. 2734, amount $25. On September 21, Cox checked out at the Gay Teague about 7:30 a. m., and checked out at the Exchange at a few minutes later. At the Gay Teague Cox stated that he was going to Atlanta, Ga.

"Both money orders bear the impression of Leonardo, N. J., M. O. Stamp, with date of September 13, 1915, in red ink, and on each of them the name A. A. Hardy is shown in the place for the issuing postmaster's signature. I. S. White is shown as the remitter of No. 2708. Charles O. Gray appears as the remitter of No. 2734, and both are payable to A. C. Cox at Savannah, Georgia. At the Gay Teague hotel Cox identified himself by a card bearing that name, and several letters addressed to him, presumably at Savannah, Georgia. The handwriting of Cox on the hotel registers indicates that he filled in the stolen money order forms.

"Cox is described as follows: Age about 30 years, height 5 feet 5 inches, weight 150 pounds, medium build, ruddy complexion, full face, smooth shaven, natty dresser, wore blue serge and soft hat alpine shape. At the Exchange hotel he had two grips, descriptions of which are not obtainable, and at the Gay Teague he had one ordinary size handbag of black imitation leather. At the Exchange hotel he called for a copy of the Birmingham Ledger.

"The better class of hotels in your city should be immediately warned to look out for this man, and to cause the arrest of any person presenting any Leonardo, New Jersey, money orders bearing numbers between 2662 and 2800. This office government rate collect, of any information that will lead to the apprehension of this man.

"TOM BAINE, "Inspector in Charge."

Again Let Us Call Your Attention to our New Line of Shoes for Men "Boyden Shoes"

Boyden Shoes range in price from $6.50 to $8.00 a pair—and they are worth the price—price alone doesn't mean good Shoes, but knowing what we do about Boyden Shoes we say without reservation of any kind, they are worth the price. They've seventy-one years of Shoe making experience behind them—been bought and sold since the year 1844. Ask yourself this question, if they were not worth the money could the Boyden shoe factory have survived seventy-one years? You are bound to answer no, for the American public would not buy a Shoe that did not prove itself to be worth the money in both Style and Durability throughout seventy-one years. You don't pay for the name "Boyden" nor the seventy-one years of experience behind them, though both are an asset of great value, but you pay for the quality that is in the individual pair that you buy.

We invite your inspection of the Boyden Shoes in the New Styles for Fall.

WELL KNOWN PIONEER DIES IN EAST WACO

THOMAS I. RENFRO PASSES AWAY
AT AGE OF 82 YEARS.
HERE SINCE 1864.

Funeral Services Will Be Held This Afternoon from Family Residence.

Thomas I. Renfro, 82 years old, died at his home, 601 Dallas street, East Waco, yesterday at 3:20 o'clock of Bright's disease. He was born in the state of Missouri, November 10, 1833, and came to Texas when he was four years old. He had been a resident of Texas ever since and had lived in Waco since 1864.

He was married to Susan E. Beavers in 1867 and to this union six children were born, three of whom survive him, Mrs. Anna Castleberry, Mrs. C. K. Durham and William G. Renfro, all of Waco, all of whom were with him when he died. His wife died in 1879, and he was married again in 1881 to Miss Celia Ann Beavers, who survives him.
